NEW QUESTION: 2

In what LAN topology do all the transmissions of the network travel the full length of cable and are received by all other stations?

- A. FDDI topology
- B. Star topology
- C. Ring topology
- D. Bus topology

Answer: D

Explanation:

In a bus topology, all the transmissions of the network travel the full length of cable and are received by all other stations. This topology is associated with Ethernet LAN media access. In a ring topology, all nodes are connected by unidirectional transmission links to form a closed loop. In a star technology, all stations are directly connected to a central device. FDDI is not a LAN topology, but a LAN media access method.
