NEW QUESTION: 1

What does a cloud customer purchase or obtain from a cloud provider?

- A. Hosting
- B. Servers
- C. Customers
- D. Services

Answer: D

Explanation:

No matter what form they come in, "services" are obtained or purchased by a cloud customer from a cloud service provider. Services can come in many forms--virtual machines, network configurations, hosting setups, and software access, just to name a few. Hosting and servers--or, with a cloud, more appropriately virtual machines--are just two examples of "services" that a customer would purchase from a cloud provider. "Customers" would never be a service that's purchased.

NEW QUESTION: 2

HA (High Availability) refers to the ability to continue to access applications in the event of a single component failure in the local system. In a data center, the downtime is one hour a year, so what is the HA of the data center?

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Branch lifetime: Short-lived
Branch type: Feature
Feature branches are used when developing a new feature or enhancement which has the potential of a development lifespan longer than a single deployment. When starting development, the deployment in which this feature will be released may not be known. No matter when the feature branch will be finished, it will always be merged back into the master branch.
