NEW QUESTION: 3

Click the Exhibit button.

Referring to the exhibit, which two statements are true?
(Choose two.)

- A. A default user quota is set on volume svml_data1.
- B. A derived quota is set on qtree1, and an explicit quota is set on qtree2.
- C. A default tree quota is set on volume svml_data1.
- D. An explicit quota is set on qtree1, and a derived quota is set on qtree2.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

A quota enforced as a result of a default quota, rather than an explicit quota (a quota with a specific target), is referred to as a derived quota. To see derived quotas, you can generate a quota report. In the report, a derived user or group quota is indicated by a Quota Specifier that is either blank or an asterisk (*). A derived tree quota, however, has a Quota Specifier; to identify a derived tree quota, you must look for a default tree quota on the volume with the same limits. Since they are not manually configured quota rules, derived quotas do not appear in the output of the quota policy rule show command.
