NEW QUESTION: 1

Which choice below is NOT one of NIST's 33 IT security principles?

- A. Implement least privilege.
- B. Assume that external systems are insecure.
- C. Totally eliminate any level of risk.
- D. Minimize the system elements to be trusted.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Risk can never be totally eliminated. NIST IT security principle #4 states: Reduce risk to an acceptable level. The National Institute of

Standards and Technology's (NIST) Information Technology

Laboratory

(ITL) released NIST Special Publication (SP) 800-27,

Engineering

Principles for Information Technology Security (EP-ITS) in June 2001 to assist in the secure design, development, deployment, and life-cycle of information systems. It presents 33 security principles which start at the design phase of the information system or application and continue until the system's retirement and secure disposal.

Some of the other 33 principles are:

Principle 1. Establish a sound security policy as the foundation for design.

Principle 2. Treat security as an integral part of the overall system design.

Principle 5. Assume that external systems are insecure.

Principle 6. Identify potential trade-offs between reducing risk and increased costs and decrease in other aspects of operational effectiveness.

Principle 7. Implement layered security (ensure no single point of vulnerability).

Principle 11. Minimize the system elements to be trusted.

Principle 16. Isolate public access systems from mission critical resources (e.g., data, processes, etc.).

Principle 17. Use boundary mechanisms to separate computing systems and network infrastructures.

Principle 22. Authenticate users and processes to ensure appropriate access control decisions both within and across domains.

Principle 23. Use unique identities to ensure accountability.

Principle 24. Implement least privilege.

NEW QUESTION: 2

A database is stored in an Automatic Storage Management (ASM) disk group, diskgroup, DGROUP1 with SQL:

There is enough free space in the disk group for mirroring to be done.

What happens if the CONTROLLER1 failure group becomes unavailable due to error of for maintenance?

A. Mirroring of allocation units will be done to ASM disks in the CONTROLLER2 failure group until the CONTROLLER1 for failure group is brought back online.

B. ASM does not mirror any data until the controller failure group is brought back online, and newly allocated primary allocation units (AU) are stored in the controller2 failure group, without mirroring.

C. Transactions accessing database objects contained in any tablespace stored in DGROUPl will fail but queries will succeed.

D. The data in the CONTROLLER1 failure group is copied to the controller2 failure group and rebalancing is initiated.

E. Transactions and queries accessing database objects contained in any tablespace stored in DGROUPl will fall.

Answer: A

Explanation:

CREATE DISKGROUP NORMAL REDUNDANCY

*For Oracle ASM to mirror files, specify the redundancy level as NORMAL REDUNDANCY (2-way mirroring by default for most file types) or HIGH REDUNDANCY (3-way mirroring for all files).
