NEW QUESTION: 2
A company that wants to reduce the cost of its unemployment insurance should do which of the following?

Each correct answer represents a complete solution. Choose all that apply.
A. Terminate employees who violate company policy
B. Enhance national productivity and competitive ability
C. Establish an effective performance-management program
D. Aggressively fight unjustified claims for unemployment
Answer: A,C,D
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Answer options C, B, and A are correct.
C and B are both obviously correct. Although A may seem counterintuitive to some because many employers are hesitant to terminate employees for policy violations, those terminated for cause generally aren't eligible for unemployment insurance. Because retaining an employee who is not contributing to the organization is a poor business decision, maintaining adequate records to demonstrate the reasons for termination provides the tools to fight claims that are unjustified.
