BGP is a path vector routing protocol and does not contain a complete topology of the network-like link state routing protocols. BGP behaves similar to distance vector protocols to ensure a path is loop free.

NEW QUESTION: 2

Consider the Global Properties following settings:

The selected option "Accept Domain Name over UDP (Queries)" means:

- A. All UDP Queries will be accepted by the traffic allowed by first explicit rule written by Administrator in a Security Policy.
- B. No UDP Queries will be accepted by the traffic allowed through all interfaces and this will be done before first explicit rule written by Administrator in a Security Policy.
- C. All UDP Queries will be accepted by the traffic allowed through all interfaces and this will be done before first explicit rule written by Administrator in a Security Policy.
- D. UDP Queries will be accepted by the traffic allowed only through interfaces with external anti-spoofing topology and this will be done before first explicit rule written by Administrator in a Security Policy.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3

Which two options are signaling protocols that are used in MPLS? (Choose two.)

- A. CLNS
- B. LISP
- C. BFD
- D. CDP
- E. RSVP
- F. LDP

Answer: E,F

Explanation:

* Signaling is the means by which LSRs all along the path know that they are a part of a given LSP. It is a signaling function by which the LSR knows that the internal transit path for the LSP depicted goes from Interface 2 to Interface 4.

* Label distribution is the means by which an LSR tells an upstream LSR what label value to use for a particular LSP. There are four protocols that can perform the label distribution function:

- * Label Distribution Protocol (LDP)
- * Resource Reservation Protocol with Traffic Engineering

Extensions (RSVP-TE)

* Constraint-Based Routed LDP (CR-LDP)

* Multiprotocol BGP

LDP and RSVP-TE are the two most commonly used label distribution protocols
